Singing talent: they should sound like a pretty good singer, one who raises some eyebrows at karaoke, but not a professional. They are a representation of Sam’s Club, popping up in many scenarios to solve peoples’ problems during the holidays while being energetic, positive, and funny. These singers will appear in many different scenes and sets doing a range of actions that may require stunt coordination, so we need people who are comfortable and physically able. Smaller bodies under 5’8” preferred as they may need to be lifted or propped up, fit in small spaces, etc. They may be standing in a kitchen one second, and popping out of the TV another.
